Rosebud Film Council To Be Re-Organized

All organizations in the Didsbury-Carstairs area, lodges, service clubs, women's organizations, boards of trade, farmer organizations, scouts, club, every well organized group that could possibly make use of an occasional evening of movie entertainment or education is asked to send a delegate to a meeting in Didsbury on Monday, March 26 at 8:00 p.m. in the high school to make plans to widen the scope of the film council's work.

The Rosebud Film Council was organized some eight or nine years ago and since that time it has been largely centered in a few locations where projectors were available. Some four years ago the Film Council joined a larger organization known as the Central Alberta Film Federation and with the assistance of the National Film Board the Federation began purchasing their own films. The Federation now consists of nine Film Councils and Mike LaFond, a Detroit grocery store owner, holds his head in his hands after realizing that he just burned a canvas bag containing $5,500, his life savings. The bag got pushed into a box in which paper and meat scraps are accumulated before being disposed of in the incinerator. CHANGING PUMPS AT TOWN WELL

A new pump is being installed at the town well to replace the one which has been causing so much trouble in recent weeks. The new machine will provide an adequate supply for town users.

Last week an experiment was held in an attempt to keep sewers from freezing up. All those on the water line were asked to turn their hot water taps on simultaneously for 10 minutes. The good results were far beyond the expectations of officials in charge.

Should the new pump be installed in time the same procedure will be carried out this week. Those on the water line will be notified by phone if they are to go through the same procedure this week. To make the plan really successful it is imperative that as many as possible co-operate.

Conserved water will be used during the next 48 hours while the well pump is being changed.

BERGEN NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Sincere sympathy is extended to Jack Davidson and family on the passing of Mrs. Davidson last week in the Olds hospital following a lengthy illness.

Kenny Haug spent several days in the Didsbury hospital having suffered a broken nose while playing at school.

The school bus was unable to bring the Sundre pupils home from school on Wednesday due to roads being blocked by drifting snow. The range limit was especially bad.

When the bus failed to arrive at Sundre teachers took the pupils as far as Bergen.

The continued cold weather is creating a serious food shortage in the district. Many areas were badly hit last summer, causing a short supply even for a normal winter.

Mike Wild was on the team which won first prize in the first event in the closed high school bonspiel in Sundre.

Mr. Todd, secretary of the Lacombe school division, assisted by Mr. Ralph Hoover, high school teacher from Lacombe, outlined the text-book rental system to a very well attended Home and School meeting here Monday evening.

This system has been in operation in the Lacombe division for three years, and enables the students to rent books, yearly, for one-third the original cost.

Mr. Tom Morris, chairman of the Old School Division, spoke in favorably of the plan as did Mr. Crispo, school inspector.

Mr. Wiggins, Didsbury school principal, stated that at a staff meeting held recently the local teachers were in accord with the plan.

A resolution was drawn up by Rev. Traub that the local association endorse same and it be sent to the Department of Education in Edmonton; and resolved that we urged the divisional board to put the plan into operation as soon as possible.

Mrs. Ross Youngs spoke on the use of film strips in the classroom. By means of a film on Egypt, Mrs. M. Clayton, grade IV teacher, demonstrated the value of film teaching.

Mr. Hooper delighted the audience with a sacred selection "O Holy City."

Visitors present from the Hartman Home and School were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Clarke.

Dr. McNeill will be the guest speaker at the April meeting when his topic will be "Dental Health."

The Home and School banner was won by Mrs. Clayton's room.

Conserved Water

A late word from town water officials asks that users of the water system conserve water as much as possible during the next 48 hours while the well pump is being changed.

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

A flippant young man had just been urged by his friend to attend to spiritual matters. Unimpressed, he shrugged his shoulders and answered: "I've still got a lot of time for religion. Remember the thief on the cross?"

"Which one?" asked the more serious young man.

Yes, which one? There were two thieves crucified with Christ. For one the eleventh hour was too late.

Someone had said: "He who postpones repentance a single day has one more day to repent of and one day less to repent in."

The Bible tells us: "Now is the accepted time. Now is the day of salvation." Yes, now the Lord invites us with the glorious invitation: "Come unto me all ye that labor and heavy laden." And He concluded with the promise: "And I will give you rest."

Some may be timid, fearful of coming to the Lord. But to them the Savior says: "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out. In view of this gracious invitation and the assuring promise let us take Him at His word and come now — not at the eleventh hour.

COULD BE TRUE ! ! !

There is nothing wrong with most kids today that a little more stable home life can't cure.

Life was different in old days. Money-saving was emphasized on every young man.

NEW GADGET CAN TELL WHAT'S WRONG WITH AN AUTO ENGINE

Latest invention is a new television auto mechanic which tells instantly what's wrong with the engine.

This electronic device throws wavy patterns of light onto a TV-type screen. Variations from the normal pattern point to such things as shorted sparkplugs, defective coils, burned distributor points, etc.

Named the Du Mont TV-type engine analyzer, it is connected to the ignition system of the engine by two clip-on leads. A car can be road tested and the screen watched to learn why the engine is acting up or losing pep.

"It goes a long way toward taking the guesswork out of motor repair work by enabling the motorist to pinpoint the source of trouble accurately in a matter of seconds," said Eugene Ecklund of Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories, Inc., N.Y.

About the size of a suitcase the 60-pound analyzer gives simultaneous pictures of the behavior of each cylinder in the engine. There is a separate wavy line for each cylinder.

Plans For Children's Zoo Call For Summer Opening

A zoo for children — where youngsters will actually be able to play with animals, not join them as exhibits — will be started in Calgary this spring, officials of the Calgary Zoological Society announced Friday.

Plans for the project have been completed following two years of intensive study of children's zoos on the North American continent. It is hoped that the zoo will be opened to the public sometime during the summer.

Financed by an anonymous donation to the society, the children's zoo will be located immediately north of the present concession building on St. George's Island.

A colorful entrance featuring animal cut-outs will lead the way to an inside enclosure where children and selected animals will mingle together under supervision. The loose animals may include lambs, calves, baby pigs, ducks, chickens and possibly a donkey.

Other baby wild animals may be added as exhibits.

The enclosure will include a safety island where the animals may retire when tired of being played with, and where children may not follow them. Around the enclosure will be individual pens with child-size fences, each illustrating a child's fable or nursery rhyme. Suggested themes for these enclosures include the Little Red Hen, the Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe, the Three Little Pigs and Peter Rabbit.

John Kanerva, known to Calgarians for his dinosaur models at St. George's Island, is now at working replicas of the Old Woman in the Shoe story.

Adults will be discouraged from entering the zoo, although final plans incorporate an overhead observation platform for parents to keep watchful eyes on their offspring.

IT COULDN'T HAPPEN HERE... WE HOPE !!!

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. — Four Newton, Iowa, high school students, who concocted a story of being kidnapped, were given jail sentences here by a judge who told them they "appear to be very spoiled little girls."

The four pleaded guilty before Judge Walter McVey Jr., to charges of disturbing the peace and were sentenced to 30 days in county jail. County attorney Tom Crossan told the court "several thousand dollars was spent because of the foolishness of these girls and more than $200 in telephone bills alone were made on calls to Newton and other places."

One of the girls, Judy Damman, 17, said they decided on an impulse Wednesday to drive the 32 miles Beecher Defends The Crow...

Henry Ward Beecher, America's greatest preacher of the last century, could be as witty as he was eloquent. One of his cleverest sermonettes was in defense of that falsely maligned bird, the crow. Said Beecher:

In spite of everything that has been said against him, we have a warm side for the good old crow. After all, he is so much like ourselves.

He is lazy — and that is human. He takes advantage of those weaker than himself — and that is man-like.

He learns tricks much faster than he does useful things — showing a true boy nature.

He likes his own color best, and loves to hear his own voice, which are eminent traits of humanity.

He will never work if he can get another to work for him — the most genuine of human traits.

He is at war with all living things except his own kind — and there he is superior to man.

He eats whatever he can get his claws upon, and is less mischievous with a belly full than when hungry — end that is human.

No wonder, then men despise crows — they are too much like men. Take off their wings and put breeches on them and crows would make above-average men. Give men wings, increase their smarts a little and some of them would be good enough to be crows.

THE THINGS THEY SAY

Nine hundred and ninety-nine women out of a thousand cannot abide snakes. This has always seemed a little odd to me since they have so much in common. Women possess all the more likeable characteristics of serpents — the same subtlety, the same propensity for getting round things, and of course, both capture their prey by fascinating him and thus rendering him powerless.

— A speaker on B.B.C.

from Newton to Des Moines instead of going to their after-school jobs.

"When we got to Des Moines we were afraid to go home, so we just kept driving," she said. "They fabricated the kidnapping story as they travelled, she added, and called police from a farmhouse saying they had escaped."

Nearly two dozen officers in seven highway patrol cars and four sheriff's cars maintained roadblocks in the area Thursday looking for the fictitious kidnappers.

REDEEMER LADIES' AID PLAN FELLOWSHIP SUPPER

Redeemer Ladies' Aid held its regular meeting in the church basement March 8. The devotional period was taken by Rev. Fox. Following this, the pastor in a very interesting way, showed with scriptural proof that the reasons why we go to church are for rest, meditation, prayer, strength, fellowship, worship, to enquire, testify and renew our love.

Martina Eider reported that some Red Cross sewing is yet to be handed in, and that more was available if anyone cared to do more. Mrs. Pieper bought material for curtains and Mr. Pieper is making rods for windows, as the ones sent were not satisfactory. Volunteers will be called for to sew the curtains.

It was decided to have another Fellowship supper on April 2nd at 7 p.m. Mrs. Gebers will be in charge of the entertainment on the evening of the supper.

Pastor Fox will investigate the details as to procedure and cost in supporting a "Hong Kong" student. A five-minute talk was given by Mrs. Brian Johnson on Civil Defense.

Taste Chef Freitag's own recipe for BUTTER MEUNIÈRE a sauce for sautéed fish, steaks or chops

When fish or meat is ready to serve, squeeze the juice of a quartered lemon over it. Sprinkle with fresh chopped parsley or chives. In a frying pan, brown 2 ounces of butter for each person. Pour over fish or meat.

it's always better with Butter!

As every housewife knows, for good eating and good living, you just can't beat butter. From the simplest hot biscuits to the most elegant layer cake, everything you make tastes so much better with butter.

Quotes (Believe 'em or not!) ...

Reg Brooker: "Wish we had snow and cold suppression in these parts. That I could go for." (What would we talk about if such a plan were to become effective?)

Dr. Epp: "You had another grammatical error on your front page last week. You guys concentrate too much on tricking innocent customers." (Thanks Doc for curing the type lice; only a few of the hardy ones withstood your treatment, call again!)

Lawrence Dickau: "That business of turning on the hot water on household taps last Friday more than proved its worth. The sewer lines noticed the difference and we may try it again this week. It'll save a lot of grief for all concerned. (Only one comment, let's all get in on the show.)"

Broken Ribs: "Yes, we're still here — bend over and we'll prove it." (Guess who didn't take up the bold challenge.)

Our Linotype Operator: If this machine doesn't start to talk the right way to me pretty soon I'm going to operate on it with a sledge-hammer. (Hope he doesn't know where to borrow one.)

Quotes From Curlers: "We played in the Olds' spiel last week, the Elkon' spiel the previous week — the latter had the best ice. Even Didsbury can boast better than that." (True or false, the curlers or the ice? We'll never know.)

We've had numerous quotes pass our ears in the past few weeks and we have passed a few of them on to you. However, there are always the ones which are not meant for tender ears. Some have a great deal of common sense and good information, they're just expressed in the wrong language. When the good ones have been modified a bit we'll be pleased to give them a chance to blow their horn; even then we may not agree with them all the way.

Harmattan News

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Harmattan Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Art Johnson on Wednesday, Feb. 29 with most members present. The call was given by each member reading a recipe of their favorite supper dish. Main topic of business was planning a bake sale which will be held on Saturday, Mar. 2 in the Co-Op Store, Olds.

It was suggested the roll call for the next meeting be each member bring a favorite pattern or idea for a quilt. It was decided also to have the "club women's Creed" to open the meeting with in future. Meeting was adjourned and lunch served by the hostesses, Mrs. O. Kojstad, Mrs. Geo. Hagen, Mrs. Viv Johnson, Mrs. A. V. Johnson, Mrs. Warren Conrad and Mrs. M. Knights. Door prize was won by Mrs. D. Dodd.

A successful bake sale was held in the Co-Op store, Olds on Saturday, March 3 by the Harmattan Women's Club. The $10 hamper of groceries, raffle was won by Mrs. Bert Johnson, Harmattan. The ladies take this opportunity to thank Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, for the use of their store and also any ladies who were kind enough to make donations.

We are pleased to see Mrs. Mansson up and around again after a stay of several days in the Olds General Hospital.

The Harmattan High School students who so to the Sundre High School were nearly all in the High School Bonspiel held at Sundre on Friday and Saturday, March 2 and 3 and all brought home prizes. Those taking part were Clara Strand, Dale Dodd, Archie Stockenburger, Norman Spooner, Leonard Lucas and Arthur Knights.

Mr. Charlie Stockenburger had the misfortune to hurt his hand quite badly in a fall while doing chores.

Mrs. Vic Johnson took her Sunday school class on a toboggan party and winter roast last Sunday.

"A HANG-OVER"

"We have careful words for the stranger and a smile for the sometimes guest. But alas for our own bitter tone. Though we think our own the best."

There was a mad rush for school books, coat, cap and mitts. There was a push for baby brother, who just happened to get in the way. There was a scolding for mother because the coat was on a hook, and not on the floor where he left it. Then the door slammed behind him. He was off to school.

After a few seconds of an awkward silence his mother said, "It is always this way in the morning." It looked to me to be a morning madness. I have chosen to call it a hang-over.

But why I wonder is it always in the morning? In the morning the body and mind should be fresh, contented and happy. Then I wonder, just at what hour this morning madness ends, and the day's mood whatever sort it be, makes its appearance.

Many a day goes wrong, growing worse as the hours pass, because the day was not well begun. There is still more truth than poetry in the word, "well begun is half done." So often when there is a feverish rush in the morning, both the fever and the rush keep increasing steadily throughout the entire day. Had there been less hurry in the morning, a short period of calm, when a few strong thoughts and purposes could have taken possession of the being, how different the day could have been.

The day could have begun, five minutes earlier. There could have been time for a few words of prayer; a few sentences read from the Word of Life; or from some devotional book prepared for that purpose. "Prayer changes things," I know it also changes people.

Most people experience something of sorrow, loneliness and grief during their lifetime. Many pillows are wet with tears as those who use them sink into the calm of slumberland. With grateful hearts many become conscious of a new day, knowing that life who sustained life during the quiet hours of the night, is able to give healing and guidance, such as will enable them to meet and master the duties of the day.

Our days are easily numbered. They soon come and soon go. During this time our spiritual or undying natures receive a little inspiration some Sunday. The rest of the week we are too hurried in the morning and too tired in the evening to even remember that we are more than flesh and blood. Thus the task of life gets hold upon us and in its hurrying current we become blind to the abundance of joy, peace, victory and opportunities that lie strewn along our pathway, to be made use of by us during the hours of the day.

Health Units Make Switch

On April 1st, 1956 a change will be occurring in the Bow Valley and Mountain View Health Units.

The population of the Bow Valley Health Unit will soon drop below the minimum required for a full time health unit, and this unit will, therefore, be dissolved on the above date. The area, at present looked after by this unit, will be divided between the Mountain View, Drumheller and Medicine Hat Health Units in the following way:

1. All that part of the unit which now lies within the M.D. of Rockyview, will form a unit with Mountain View Health Unit.
2. The M.D. of Wheatland and all towns and villages within its boundaries, all of which are at present in the Bow Valley Unit, will, after 1st April be looked after by the Drumheller Health Unit.
3. The town of Bassano and that part of County Newell and present looked after by the Bow Valley Unit, will come under the Medicine Hat Health Unit, which has a sub-office in the Town of Brooks.

The Mountain View Health Unit will consist of:
M.D. Mountain View No. 49; M.D. Rockyview No. 44; L.I.D. 46 (Montgomery); L.I.D. 946; Parts of L.I.D. 50 and 58; The towns of Bowness, Didsbury, Olds, Sundre, Airdrie, Carstairs, Cochrane, Cremona, Crossfield and Erikaana.

Affirmative Needed!

Lieutenant: "Why don't you marry her?"

Second Lieut.: "She has a slight impediment in her speech."

Lieutenant: "How and what is it?"

Second Lieut.: "She can't say yes."

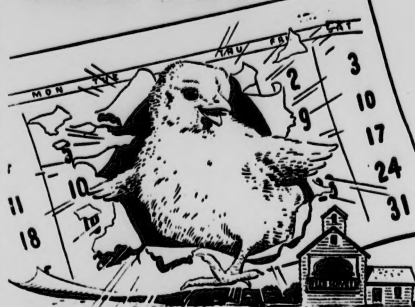

It should not be too difficult a matter each morning to turn toward the "hills from whence cometh our help," where we get a new sense of the realities that are not seen but are eternal. It surely would prove to be more worth while than this hang-over or morning madness that is all too often practiced. Life is not something to be hurried through; not something to be wasted; not something that just happens. Life is God's great gift to each of us, a gift to be enjoyed and used, both in time and beyond time. Jesus said: "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit." Surely we could take time to look up each day, more than once a day and say, "Father, into Thy hands I commit my all." This help can be had for the asking.

TREATING SEED: This is the time of year when the average farmer is cleaning up the seed he intends to put into the ground this spring.

Many farmers use mercurial compounds of some sort to treat the seed while it is being cleaned. This is a very commendable practice.
Where liquid fungicides are used there is comparatively little danger encountered while handling the material. But if you are using any one of the mercurial dusts, you should keep in mind that you are working with a deadly poison and protect yourself accordingly by wearing a good mask and work as much as possible in the open air.

Mercury is a cumulative poison, every little bit you may already have in your system from previous seed handling episodes, added to what you may inhale carelessly from time to time may eventually be more than your system can handle with fatal results. BE CAREFUL, not only while treating the seed but in each subsequent handling of the treated grain. The life you save may be your own.

A Fish Story
And It's True

"Many years ago, I had arranged to meet my old friend Wes Taylor, a Philadelphia illustrator, at Jasper Park for a brief vacation," writes Napier Moore in The Financial Post.
"En route to Alberta, he was to detour for a few days' fishing on Ontario's Lake Temagami. He arrived at Jasper in a state of some distress.
He had lost his glasses. Out fishing with a guide, while getting a catch alongside the boat, he had leaned over the side and the glasses of the pince-nez type, had dithered off his nose and dropped into the drink. Lost without them, he had promptly telegraphed his physician in Philadelphia asking him to rush a new pair to Jasper."

"Two days later, a package arrived.
'My glasses' my friend exclaimed, leaving open the wrapping without looking at it. 'That's fast work!'
There was no air mail in those days and by train the package couldn't possibly have got there from Philadelphia. Then Wes gasped. 'These are my old glasses,' he said.

"I picked up the wrapper. It bore Canadian stamps. Inside was a note from the manager of the hotel at Temagami. It said that the evening Wes departed, the guide had gone out fishing again and had caught a whopper. And wedged in its gills were—you are quite right—Taylor's glasses. It was the guide's opinion that the fish attracted by the glint of the lens as they sailed by had mistakenly regarded them as being edible."

Squirrel Cage . . .

"Did your wife have anything to say when you came in late the other night?"

"No, but that didn't keep her from talking for two hours."

A wealthy Texan was driving his Roll Royce along the highway when he spotted a hitchhiker. As the hitchhiker got into the car, he noticed a pair of thick glasses lying on the front seat next to the driver. "Pardon me, sir," he said, "but don't you think that you should be wearing your glasses while you're driving?"

The Texan shook his head slowly and drawled: "Don't let a little thing like that bother you, son. This windshield is ground to my prescription."

GREAT LEADER

Winston Churchill was not on great friendly terms with his former son-in-law, Vic Oliver, the famous comedian.

Oliver dropped in to see Churchill, thinking he might patch up the twisted matrimonial affair. A few few notables were present, and Oliver, trying to warm Churchill's heart, asked: "Gentlemen, who in your noble opinion, will emerge as the greatest leader of the war?"

He was expecting one of the noted gentlemen to reply that Churchill was, and he was ready to agree instantly. But Churchill snapped, "Mussolini!" before they had a chance to nominate him.

"Mussolini?" said Vic, "But why?"
"Because," said Winston, "he had the foresight to shoot his son-in-law."

Teacher: "Name five things that contain milk."

Boy: "Ice Cream and a cow."

Teacher: "That's only two things."

Boy: "Guess you never saw a cow."

Wouldn't people scream if they had to pay the preacher as much for the marriage as they do the lawyer for the divorce?

Many Benefit
From Red Cross

While many parts of the world suffered disasters requiring the assistance of Red Cross, the most satisfaction came from sending a steady stream of supplies to the needy said Mrs. Katherine E. Mason, national honorary vice-president and chairman of the Women's Work Committee for Alberta, in her annual report to Alberta Division, C.A.C.S., March 19 and 16 at the Banff School of Fine Arts.

The chairman commended Alberta's women who maintained their high standard of work and high output in sending a total of 18,325 garments overseas to England, Pakistan, Germany, Costa Rica, Egypt and Lebanon. She announced also that in November additional quotas of work had been accepted for Lebanon, Jordan, Syria and Gaza and that return reports had stated that many of these peoples had never before owned a new garment. She said, too, that there is a special interest in providing layettes for infants born in the Gaza strip as otherwise many would be wrapped in rags.

In addition to the work for the need overseas, Alberta's women had not neglected the work at home.
The Alberta Red Cross Crippled
Children's hospital received 1194 sewn items and 228 surgical dressings while the Blood Transfusion Service was supplied with 2,419 sewn supplies and 371,772 surgical dressings.
General relief received 260 sewn garments and 182 surgical dressings while disaster relief received 358 sewn articles.

Notes From D.A.

By Howard J. Fuleher

New regulations governing the bonding and licensing of live stock dealers, and dealer's agents came into effect on January 1, 1956. These regulations will become general in the Province on April 1, 1956. A dealer or his agent is required to carry his license at all times while dealing in livestock.

A dealer without agents is required to obtain a surety bond in the amount of $2,000.00. Dealers with agents are responsible at all times for the business conduct and financial responsibility of their agents.
Farmers and Ranchers should request dealers to show their Alberta Live Stock Dealers License before selling livestock, realizing that if such person has no license there is no protection in case of default of payment.

Anyone dealing or speculating in livestock who has not already done so should make arrangements to obtain their bond and license at once.
Full information is available at District Agricultural offices or the Livestock Branch, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

It was the little fellow's first time mother.

"I don't know," he replied, "but I sang Davy Crockett!"

Crude Oil From The West To Be Piped To Calgary

Cremona Pipe Lines, wholly-owned subsidiary of Home Oil, has been granted a permit by Alberta Minister of Highways Gordon Taylor to construct a 60-mile, 8-inch crude oil pipeline from the Sundre-Westward Ho-Harmattan area to Calgary.

The decision came after lengthy hearings before the Alberta Conservation Board, which saw three companies battling for the right to pipe crude from the growing fields north-west of Calgary.

The trunk line of Cremona will have an initial capacity of 18,000 barrels daily. It will run from Westward Ho to Calgary. A six-inch line will carry crude from Sundre to the main trunk. The over-all cost of the project is $2,750,000.

R. A. Brown, Jr., president of Home Oil, announced that survey crews would commence immediately to locate the exact route of the line and purchasing of the right-of-way will follow closely thereafter. Order for pipe and equipment has been placed and delivered is expected in time for this year's construction season.

The line when completed, will directly connect the Calgary refinery with an assured source of crude, which will be available to supply their increasing demand requirements in the future," Mr. Brown stated.

The line will draw on 29,300,000 barrels of proven reserves, with 18.2 million at Sundre, 3.7 million at Westward Ho and 7.4 million in the growing Harmattan area.

Probable ultimate reserves have been estimated at 79.2 million barrels. There are 16 producers at Sundre, 11 at Westward Ho and two at Harmattan. Maximum production from these fields will reach an estimated high of 10,000 barrels in 1967.

Calgary refinery demand has been estimated at 15,700 barrels daily through 1956, 23,400 by 1960 and 35,900 barrels daily by 1965.

The main line and terminal will cost $2,070,000. Gathering lines will cost $680,000. Ten-year average tariffs are as follows: Gathering system, 7.36 cents; main line and terminal, 12.85 cents; loss 1.1 cents, for a total of 22.31 cents per barrel.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN PLANNED BY WALTHER LEAGUE

The first March meeting of the Walther League opened with a hymn, followed by a prayer. A test on Chapter II of "Story of the Church" was taken and Chapter III discussed.

The meeting closed with the Walther League song and a short devotion.

Social Evening At Deadrick Home

An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Deadrick of Olds Thursday, March 9, to celebrate the coming of the Deadrick and Wilson families to Alberta from Iowa and Mound City, Mo. on that date fifty years ago.

Most of those present were dressed in styles of 1906 which caused much merriment as they arrived. After a delicious supper of old fashioned food, served in homestead manner, photos were taken.

A program of songs, recitations, etc., some of them composed by those present depicting experiences of the early days was rendered.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Doris Wilson, Jean and Maryah, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shoopbottom, Donna and Dash, Mr. and Mrs. Ben St. Clair and Carol, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Deadrick, Mr. and Mrs. John Deadrick, Bobby and Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McInnes, Dr. and Mrs. Dalton Deadrick, Linda and Elaine, Mrs. Danny Murray, Mrs. Landman and Bert Hoeve.

IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE

Typical of the attitude, in many quarters, toward national assistance to agriculture in a time of difficulty is the contrast between two news releases carried on the front page of a recent issue of a Calgary newspaper.

The first dealt with the federal government bill proposing the payment of some $30 million to lessen the load on producers of carrying heavy stocks of wheat. The expense to the taxpayer was emphasized and the move was branded as an unwarranted gift to a minority section of the population.

The second item referred to the proposal of the Federal and Ontario governments to spend a much larger sum of public money to build sections of the trans-Canada gas pipeline. Although this plan is designed to aid a private corporation, largely financed by wealthy interests from outside the country, to establish a highly profitable enterprise, it was hailed by the newspaper as a commendable arrangement.

In the opinion of the Alberta Wheat Pool the Canadian taxpayer will receive more benefit from helping to keep agriculture solvent than he will from subsidizing his business.

CARE WITH PANAGEN

Panogen or mercuric dust compounds used for seed grain treatment should be handled with great care or they are poisonous to animals and humans. Under no consideration should any treated kernal be permitted to mix with other grain. Heavy penalties are provided by law for anyone delivering panogen or other mercuric treated grain to an elevator. Even one kernel found in a carload will cause the whole shipment to be condemned.

Farmers are urged to use every precaution in cleaning their seed grain and are asked not to treat too much. It is better to treat a few extra bushels to finish seeding than to have treated seed left over. It is also important to clean very carefully the truck or granary which has contained treated seed before putting in fresh grain.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT WELFARE

The following is a summary of what may be regarded as pension plans for certain categories of Alberta citizens:

Old Age Assistance—Under an Agreement with the Government of Canada the Province has, since 1st January, 1952, been paying assistance up to $40.00 a month under a means test to persons in the 65-69 age group who have resided in Canada for 20 years or its equivalent.

Fifty per cent of the assistance paid may be recovered from the Federal Government.

Blind Persons' Allowances—Pensions to the blind had for several years been paid under the former Old Age Pension Act. On 1st January 1952, a special Blind Persons' Allowances Act came into effect and, under an Agreement with the Government of Canada, the Province continued to pay an allowance up to $40.00 a month under a means test to blind persons who had attained the age of 21 years and had resided in Canada for 10 years or its equivalent.

Seventy-five per cent of the allowance may be recovered from the Federal Government.

Widows' Pensions—Since 1st April, 1952, the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to widows of the 60-64 age group who had resided in the Province for the greater portion of the three years prior to the date of application and had resided in Canada for a period of 15 years or its equivalent prior to date the age of 60 years was attained.

Disabled Persons' Pensions—Since 1st June, 1953, the Province, at its entire expense, has been paying a pension up to $40.00 a month under a means test to disabled persons who have attained the age of 21 years and who have resided in Alberta for the 10 years immediately preceding the date of the application.

Supplementary Allowances—An allowance up to $15.00 a month is payable under a means test to Alberta residents in receipt of Old Age Security, Old Age Assistance and Blind Persons' Allowances.

Disabled Persons' Allowances—Under this Act, the Province pays up to $40.00 a month under a means test to certain permanently disabled persons who have attained the age of 18 years and who have resided in Alberta for the 10 years immediately preceding the date of application. Half of this allowance may be recovered from the Federal Government.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES

These allowances have been paid in Alberta since 1919 to any needy widow with dependent children according to the schedules in effect which vary from $50.00 a month to $145.00 a month. A special allowance up to $10.00 a month may, in addition, be paid in cases where the need is apparent.

The municipality in which the widow has acquired residence assumes 20 per cent of the cost of the regular allowance, the Province paying the balance in addition to the special allowance. This allowance is payable until the child reaches the age of 16 years or 18 years if attending school and making satisfactory progress.

HOSPITALIZATION FOR PENSIONERS

Hospitalization and Treatment Services—The Province, at its own expense, provides certain hospitalization and treatment services to Alberta residents who are in receipt of Old Age Assistance, Mother's Allowance, Widow's Pension or Supplementary Allowance. This is also available to recipients of Old Age Security under a means test.

The Province pays the entire cost of the administration of the foregoing services.

Old Age Security—To persons who have attained the age of 70 years and have resided in Canada for a period of 20 years or its equivalent the Federal Government pays a pension of $40.00 a month without a means test.

In last week's column we made an error in the names of the King's Quartette that will be touring with Mr. Taylor this summer. The names should have read: Earl Palmer, David Archer, Clifford Quants and Ormand Sherick.

During the last weekend a number of students with faculty members heading their teams visited churches and made the annual appeal for assistance financially. President Taylor went to Oimiet and Hoadley; Arthur Eby took the May City field; Harold Oke went to Castor and Gahad, Mrs. Suder to Mountain View, Mr. Waidin to Bergen and Miss Eby to McDougall. Finally James River Students in each group sang and taught Sunday school classes, took charge of services, and filled in the program with whatever talents they individually possessed. All returned with splendid reports.

On Thursday evening the seniors of the College and the faculty members were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Stauffer at a turkey supper. The evening was spent in games and fun. During the evening several of the seniors turned teacher and had the faculty as a class under their instruction. It revealed their possibilities for the future at least. All enjoyed the evening immensely, and surely a big thank you goes to the host and hostess for their thought of us.

Some friends have sent us cured pork. Is it ever a treat. This came from some little distance and is greatly appreciated by our cook and those who eat in the College dining room.

The King's Messenger Quartette sang in the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church in Calgary on Sunday evening. This has been a contact that is appreciated by all of us, and Rev. Carlson of that church has shown great interest in our College. Miss Sharrman and Mrs. Suder accompanied the quartette.

A message by phone from Rev. E. O. Archer of Acadia Valley indicated that part of Alberta to be snowed in. A quartette was supposed to take Mr. Sunday's services there, but Mr. Archer said the only way they could get in would be by air. That foretells muddy days for that district when spring comes.

Vast preparations are on the way by the juniors for the day when they will have junior-senior banquet. That means school will soon be over and the students will again scatter to the four corners of the country. College days pass by quickly, but we are enjoying them while they last, and students express their appreciation of their school days wherever they go.

The card parties and dances will continue from time to time, a dance is scheduled for March 22nd at the school house, all are welcome.

The United Missionary Church have a bus to get the children into Sunday school now. Formerly they picked several children up by car but now there are enough children who will attend to require a bus.

Jack Betts is back at work again after being off work for two months and a half due to illness.

Heavy snowfall and strong winds piled snow high on the roads last week. Wednesday, March 7, Mr. Shepard did not get through from Calgary with the mail. He brought it through on Thursday morning. Friday morning, March 9 the Garfield bus was snow-bound and resulted in many absences from school. The snow plows were working overtime but it was for a time a losing battle. Everyone is hoping this is the last severe storm this winter.

NO HIDING PLACE

The state of civil defence in North America (and no doubt in Europe too) is bad. Those in authority are worried about the fate of cities in the event of an H-bomb attack. One hears remarks of how one bomb would wreck the whole Canadian oil industry, how industries should be decentralized to make them less vulnerable to attack, how difficult it would be to evacuate mass populations, and so on.

What can be done should be done. But the fact cannot be escaped that there is no protection from the H-bomb today. If it comes to atomic warfare the safety of the oil industry or all industry won't be important. It will be simply a question of brute survival of those who escape the blast and the radiation.

The problem is not how to defend oneself against the H-bomb, but to see that the H-bomb is never used.

In that connection the current exchange of letters between Eisenhower and Bulganin is encouraging. The President realizes the futility of counting on defenses against Russian atomic might. He feels that both countries must face up to the challenge not so much of each to the other but of atomic warfare to both of them and to all the world.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The idolatry of relying on material rather than spiritual power will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter is the Golden Text from Isaiah 42:9: 'I am the Lord; that is my name and my glory will I not give to another, neither any praise to graven images.'"

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Keys to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (377:39): "Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

The following is among the passages to be read from the Bible (Isaiah 44:9): "They that make a graven image are all of them vanity; and their delectable things shall not profit; they see not, nor know; that they may be ashamed."

First Reading of Gas By-law
These are our greatest heroes. No medal can adequately repay their selfless actions. The Victoria Cross is one decoration whose currency has never been cheapened, and every holder of it is a man of great valor.

Sending these men to England in June is Canada's way of recognizing the debt owed them by all Canadians. It would have been shameful if some of them could not have attended the VC reunion for lack of funds.

A DEBT repaid? CAN IT EVER BE repaid?

Decisions of the government to send all Canadian Victoria Cross winners to the centenary celebrations will be greeted with satisfaction by all good Canadians. These are our greatest heroes. No medal can adequately repay their selfless actions. The Victoria Cross is one decoration whose currency has never been cheapened, and every holder of it is a man of great valor.

Sending these men to England in June is Canada's way of recognizing the debt owed them by all Canadians. It would have been shameful if some of them could not have attended the VC reunion for lack of funds.

MOTHER WARNED . . . NO MORE YAWNS ! !

Silence was the price tag on a weekend yawn.
A tired Toronto mother of seven children found her jaws locked in the yawn position.
After emergency treatment at a hospital, the doctor had only one thing to say: "Don't talk too much and, above all, don't yawn."

IT TAKES A LONG TIME BUT THEY'LL LEARN . . .

Never, never try to stop your wife when she decides to take the car, as William Lamb of Brooklyn, N.Y., has learned.

Police said they had an argument here and Mrs. Lamb tried to drive off. Lamb, 47, braced his body against the front of the car and tried to hold it back.

He was in fair condition in hospital with a broken leg.

You can tell some people have absolutely no sense of humor because they laugh at their own jokes.
